SECOND EDITION.

DR. FOWLE'S COLLECTION OF

TWENTY-FIVE PAROCHIAL ANTHEMS

BY THE

CATHEDRAL COMPOSERS OF 1863.

The first edition consisted of 1,000 subscription copies. The second edition will be published by subscription, in order that all persons may have an equal advantage. The volume contains twenty-five Anthems, and 136 pages of folio music, in vocal score, with organ accompaniment. The music (composed expressly for this work by some of the best church musicians) is printed on the best paper, and produced in a style that cannot fail to give satisfaction. Price to subscribers, only 12s.; Six copies, £2. 12s. A Prospectus will be sent, and subscribers' names received, by the Editor and Proprietor, Dr. FOWLE, Winchester.

Opinions of some of the Subscribers to the First Edition.

From the Rev. Sir Frederick A. G. Ouseley, Bart.—"Your work will be most useful to me."

From Rev. J. B. Dykes, Mus. Doc., Durham.—"The volume is an interesting and useful addition to our stock of short and simple Anthems, and some of the compositions possess very considerable merit."

From Dr. G. J. Elvey, Windsor.—"I hope your publication will prove advantageous to all, as it deserves."

From Dr. William Spark, Leeds.—"I consider the work admirable, useful, and very cheap—too cheap. It ought to be in the choir of every place of worship in the United Kingdom where anthems are sung."

From R. A. Atkins, Esq., Organist of St. Asaph Cathedral.—"The work is a marvel of cheapness."

From Henry Baumer, Esq., Professor of Music at Dulwich College.—"I like the work extremely."

From the Rev. Precentor Dickson, Ely.—"On glancing over the volume I see much to like, and have no doubt but that we shall require a supply of copies for the cathedral."

From Rev. Edward Deacle, Stevenage.—"I am much pleased with the Parochial Anthems. In many there is a good melody, and the harmonies for the most part are so simple that any choir with a moderate proficiency in singing could render them with correctness and facility."

The above are a few only of the many testimonials that have been received, and the work has unanimously been pronounced to be the best and cheapest of the kind ever issued. NOTICE.—By the time this advertisement is seen, the whole of the first edition (1,000 copies) will have been sent out. The number of subscribed copies in eight months is nearly eleven hundred. Address, Dr. Fowle, 51, Kingsgate-street, Winchester.

ANTHEM FOR CHRISTMAS.—This favorite Anthem (being No. 18 of Dr. Fowle's Eighteen Short Anthems) will be sent as a specimen for eight postage stamps, with a list of the whole eighteen in the volume. Address, Dr. Fowle, 51, Kingsgate-street, Winchester.

THE ALLELUIATIC SEQUENCE: Cantemus cuncti,—The strain upraise; with the ancient and only appropriate melody. Reprinted from the Hymnal Noted.

The Alleluiatic Sequence was written, and the music composed, in the eleventh century; as some will have it, by Godeschalkus. Though now employed on the highest festivals, it was originally intended as "The Farewell to Alleluia" on Septuagesima Sunday. It is not very common in Missals and Sequentiaries.

It was first translated by me for the Hymnal Noted; where the music was, for the first time in England, published. The varying metre only represents that of the original. Most unhappily it has usually been sung to a chant composed (or rather, altered) by the late Mr. Troyte; a proceeding which utterly destroys all the picturesqueness of the original melody, and reduces to a monotonous level the exquisitely appropriate character of each recurring Alleluia.

This may partly be owing to the cost of the Harmonies of the Hymnal Noted, and the Sequence is now therefore reprinted by itself. Most earnestly I trust that, in future, and especially in those great choral meetings which now, happily, are becoming so common, this melody, and this only, will be used. When it has once been heard, it will be matter of wonder that the other was ever tolerated.

J. M. NEALE.

The objects gained in these instruments are cheapness, simplicity, and power, and they are especially adapted to Churches and Chapels. They have none of the ordinary stops, excepting the Tremolo and Expression, but have the Knee Swells, bass and treble, and a Grand Jeu for the heel, which enables the performer to increase and diminish the power without taking the hands off the keys. The simplicity of playing will therefore be easily understood.
